

LETTER: Recognizes Light Plant and DCR employees

To the editor:

We wish to express our gratitude to the staff of the West Boylston Municipal Light Plant, who spent Hurricane Sandy away from their homes, manning the phones and responding to incidents in town.

When a large tree branch fell and disrupted our power during the storm, the employees of the Light Plant were on the scene and quickly put things to right. And while we are especially grateful for their emergency response, we are also aware of the excellent electrical service we receive throughout the year.

West Boylston is fortunate to enjoy an exemplary municipal utility. We are appreciative of their ongoing efforts and thankful to the West Boylston residents who, 100 years ago, established our municipal light plant.

And when it was determined that the wayward tree was located on property owned by the Department of Conservation and Recreation, employees from the Beaman Street office arrived to remove the debris from our property. Everyone that we dealt with was friendly, courteous and professional.

This event was a small inconvenience when compared to the difficulties that Hurricane Sandy brought to others. But we are thankful for the assistance that we have received.
